

Centralise business travel program and empower employees to plan and book their travel.

What is Atyourprice?

Atyourprice is a robust web based business travel solution that automates travel planning, requisition, approval, fulfilment, invoicing, reporting and duty of care.

Automation brings exponential savings to business travel programs and also makes the travel procurement process more operationally efficient.

Corporate travel key challenges

Track, control & measure

The success of any business travel program is depended on the management's ability to track, control and measure all travel expenditure instantly. In order to recognize if their set goals for their business travel programs are met it becomes very important to instantly access data and analysis of their employees buying behaviour and trends.

Policy enforcement

Approximately 35% of the companies reported the issue of travel policy violation which leads to excessive spending. Enforcing policy prior to booking is a huge challenge for most corporations.

Cost of approval

The cost associated with delayed approvals or not providing 100% information to approvers at the time approval causes significant losses to an organization. A structure indenting and approval process is necessary to eliminate all losses and leakages.

Single solution

The importance of providing a single solution for all travel related services to employees cannot be overstated. Multiple contact points for different services leads to low turnaround time and complications. A robust solution that can onboard existing travel vendors is key to the success of any travel management program.

Our solution

Analytics

Live dashboard highlights areas of concerns to management when analyzing travel spend. The data when instantly available highlights the effectiveness of a travel program in real time. Also, a custom reports engine enables companies to access data that they find more relevant in understanding buying behaviour and trends within their organization.

Policy compliance

Enforcement of travel policy is a major concern for management. Atyourprice travel policy engine can be configured to ensure 100% policy compliance. The policy level settings can be configured based on band/grade, designation, department, location or title. Exception approval matrixes can be build to handle violations.

Multi level workflow

Automate and alert corporate travel or trip approver with not just information regarding necessity to travel but also the cost associated with it. With Atyourprice multi level and multi travel mode approval engine companies can easily structure complex approval matrices .The system also has the ability to track the losses resulting due to delay in approvals.

Preferred vendor network

Atyourprice solution provides companies the ability to upload all corporate negotiated local contracts and rates for vendors that fall outside the solution. The ability to access these vendors through a single solution enhances the employee experience and reduces multiple touch points.
